October 12, 2007

SUBJECT: INF - NATIVE AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH POSTER

Purpose. To distribute poster.

Expiration Date. September 30, 2008.

Under separate cover, all offices will receive a poster entitled "Caretakers." This poster was designed by Artist LaDon Smith.

"A proud and strong nation, the Choctaw people have always been thankful for the wonderful bounty 'Mother Earth' has provided through the centuries such as the gifts of the wood, water, fresh game, and food crops. We believe the earth was left in our hands to care for and protect so our children; their children, and generations to come will enjoy the same bounty. Our ancestors only used what they needed from the earth and would not waste our natural resources. The Choctaw Nation promotes keeping our heritage alive."

This poster is part of a long tradition of NRCS celebrating American Indian Heritage month – November 2007.

The State Office has a limited supply of these posters. Please contact your Area Administrative Coordinator for additional posters. For additional information, please contact Julie MacSwain, Public Affairs Specialist.
